OCTOBER MAKES PROGRESS

The Lyric Center's Youth Arts Program has had a slow start, but in the middle of a global pandemic, I'd say we were right on track. This past Friday, October 23, Amber Markoto conducted our first active session, showing the students how to illustrate cats in a pumpkin patch. Amber's patience and guidance was perfect for what we are looking to do with this program. Giving the students new illustrative techniques to replicate a drawing in their own style created 4 unique drawings, all based on a similar concept. We were able to lay out the tables safely distancing the students. We would have loved to get a group photo, but we felt it best to just take some individual shots at this time. The session was a success and these students thoroughly enjoyed themselves.

LOOKING AHEAD

Coming up on Friday, October 30th, we have a pumpkin felting session conducted by Alana Majjala. Alana will teach students in grades 6-12 how to create adorable mini pumpkins out with a felting technique. Registration ends on Wednesday, October 28.

Halloween looks a little different this year. We wanted to have a fun, socially safe and festive event open for the kiddos. On Saturday, October 31st, program coordinator, Lindsey, will have a small photo-pop up set up in the Lyric's Annex space, located next to the gallery. All ages are welcome to come in for a treat and photo opportunity to capture their fun costumes. The event will be open from noon-3 p.m. There will be waivers to sign as we would like to post the photos on our social media platforms. You can request to have them omitted to the public and e-mailed instead. We hope to see you there!!

Coming up in November, we will try our first Saturday (11.21) Zoom class for grades 3-6 along with a few open sessions. We are still looking to create our Youth Council as well for grades 7-12. Please reach out with any suggestions, questions, comments or concerns. You can email lyriccenteryouthprogram@gmail.com at any time.

Thank you for your support!

Every student that signs up for a session, receives one personal journal to use for the year.

Our open sessions are designed to create a safe space to come in and create freely: Do you have ideas for future sessions? Are you looking for inspiration and guidance on a project you would like to bring to fruition? We ask for a minimum of $5 donation each open session attended. This helps us to keep the lights on. We hope to have scholarships to offer in the future. Please message us if any financial reasons are keeping your family from attending our program.
